

Artichoke & White Bean Dip

This creamy white bean and artichoke dip brings all the cheesy comfort of a classic baked appetizer, with a plant protein–packed twist! Cannellini beans and Greek yogurt blend with artichoke hearts to create the velvety base. A mix of Parmesan and Gruyère gives it that irresistible pull of melted cheese and a golden, bubbly top. Served warm with crisp veggies or pita chips, it's equally at home at a game-day spread or elegant dinner party.

Ingredients

- 1 (10-ounce) jar artichoke hearts in water, rinsed (about 2 cups)
- 3 medium cloves garlic
- 2 (15-ounce) cans no-salt-added cannellini beans, rinsed (about 4 cups)
- 1 cup nonfat plain strained (Greek-style) yogurt
- 4 ounces reduced-fat cream cheese, at room temperature
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped fresh thyme, plus leaves for garnish
- 2 teaspoons onion powder
- ½ teaspoon ground pepper
- ¾ cup shredded Gruyère cheese, divided
- Multicolored carrots, Belgian endive leaves, Persian cucumbers and/or pita chips, for serving (optional)

Directions

Step 1

Preheat oven to 350°F with rack in middle position. Combine rinsed artichoke hearts and 3 garlic cloves in a food processor; process until finely chopped, about 1 minute, scraping down the sides as needed. Transfer to a 12-inch cast-iron or stainless-steel skillet.

Step 2

Combine rinsed cannellini beans, 1 cup yogurt, 4 ounces cream cheese, ¼ cup Parmesan, 2 teaspoons thyme, 2 teaspoons onion powder and ½ teaspoon pepper in the food processor. Process until smooth, about 2 minutes, scraping down the sides as needed. Add to the skillet with the artichoke mixture; stir to combine. Fold in ¼ cup Gruyère and spread evenly. Top with the remaining ½ cup Gruyère.

Step 3

Bake until the cheese is melted, about 5 minutes. Increase oven temperature to broil; broil until the cheese is golden brown, about 7 minutes.

Step 4

Garnish with thyme leaves, if desired. Serve with carrots, endive, cucumbers and/or pita chips, if desired.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is there an easy way to whip the cream cheese?

Absolutely. Let the cream cheese stand at room temperature for 10 minutes before processing. You'll find it much easier to work with.

Do I have to use Gruyère?

You can use a different cheese, if you prefer. If you don't want to use Gruyère, try substituting it with Swiss or mozzarella cheese.

Why is the dip watery?

It usually comes down to not draining the artichoke hearts or beans thoroughly, which leads to excess moisture in your dip. If you're looking to thicken your dip, gradually add extra cannellini beans until you reach your desired consistency.

How should I store and reheat leftovers?

Store the dip in an airtight container in the refrigerator for up to 4 days. If you have a large amount of leftover dip, reheat it in a covered dish in a 350°F oven until it reaches your desired temperature. For smaller portions, using the microwave is the best option. If the dip appears dry, add a little liquid from the artichoke jar, then heat it in the microwave in 30-second increments, stirring in between.

What are some great ways to use the dip?

In addition to endive leaves, cucumbers and pita chips, this dip pairs well with other raw vegetables, crackers or flatbread. It's also an excellent addition to both summer and winter charcuterie boards. We enjoy using it in veggie wraps, too. You can incorporate the dip in our Crunchy Veggie Wraps, substitute it for hummus in our Whole-Wheat Veggie Wrap or use it as a topping for a baked potato. It's also delicious added to cooked rice.
