Ingredients

- 1 cup rice vinegar plus 2 tablespoons, divided
- 1 medium Persian cucumber, cut into matchsticks (about $\frac{3}{4}$ cup)
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup shredded red cabbage
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup matchstick carrots
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons gochujang
- 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil plus 2 tablespoons, divided
- 4 cloves garlic, minced, divided
- 3 tablespoons neutral oil, such as canola or avocado, divided
- 8 ounces shiitake mushrooms, stemmed and thinly sliced (about $3\frac{1}{2}$ cups)
- 1 (10-ounce) package baby spinach
- 1 tablespoon reduced-sodium soy sauce
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, divided
- 4 large eggs
- $2\frac{2}{3}$ cups cooked long-grain brown rice
- $1\frac{1}{3}$ cups frozen shelled edamame, cooked according to package directions

Thinly sliced scallions for garnish (optional)

Sesame seeds for garnish (optional)

Directions

Step 1

Combine 1 cup vinegar, cucumber matchsticks and $\frac{3}{4}$ cup each cabbage and carrots in a medium bowl, pressing down to fully submerge the vegetables. Cover and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes and up to 1 week; strain and discard the liquid.

Step 2

Meanwhile, whisk $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons gochujang, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon sesame oil and 1 minced garlic clove together in a small bowl until evenly combined. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use, up to 4 days.

Step 3

Heat 2 tablespoons canola oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Add sliced mushrooms; cook, stirring occasionally, until browned, about 7 minutes. Add the remaining 3 minced garlic cloves; cook, stirring constantly, until fragrant, about 1 minute. Gradually add 10 ounces spinach, stirring constantly; cook, stirring constantly, until wilted, about 3 minutes. Transfer the mushroom mixture to a medium heatproof bowl; stir in 1 tablespoon soy sauce, $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon salt and the remaining 2 tablespoons sesame oil and 1 tablespoon vinegar until evenly coated. Wipe the skillet clean.

Step 4

Heat the remaining 1 tablespoon canola oil in the skillet over medium-low heat. Carefully crack 4 eggs into the pan, leaving space between them. Sprinkle the eggs with the remaining $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon salt. Cover and cook until the whites are beginning to set, about 2 minutes. Uncover and cook until the whites are completely set and the yolks are still runny, about 1 minute, 30 seconds.

Step 5

Divide $2\frac{2}{3}$ cups rice among 4 bowls. Top with $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups edamame, pickled vegetables, mushroom mixture and eggs; drizzle with the mayonnaise mixture. Garnish with scallions and/or sesame seeds, if desired.

To make ahead

The pickled vegetables (Step 1) can be made up to 1 week ahead; store in an airtight container in the refrigerator. The sauce (Step 2) can be made up to 4 days ahead; store in an airtight container in the refrigerator. You can also cook the rice a day ahead of time and reheat it in the microwave, or use microwaveable cooked brown rice instead to save time.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is bibimbap?

Bibimbap, a popular Korean dish, translates to “mixed rice” and perfectly captures how the dish is meant to be eaten: toppings such as sautéed or marinated veggies, meat, tofu and/or a fried egg are all combined with the rice at the base of the bowl before enjoying.

Is bibimbap healthy?

Yes! This bibimbap recipe serves up plenty of vegetables with anti-inflammatory benefits and uses brown rice at the base for a healthy dose of fiber. We make our own pickled vegetables for the topping, which also helps keep sodium in check.
