Frequently Asked Questions

Can I make the vinaigrette sweeter?

Absolutely. You can adjust the vinaigrette to your preferred sweetness level by adding more honey. In fact, you can adjust any of the ingredients or add more liquid to dilute it. You can use yellow mustard instead of Dijon if mustard spiciness is a concern. Note that changing the recipe will alter the nutrition profile.

Is it better to make the dressing in a jar or bowl?

Shaking the vinaigrette in a jar is one of the easiest ways to emulsify the oil and vinegar, resulting in a smooth consistency. If you prefer to make it in a bowl, whisk together all the ingredients except for the oil. Then, gradually add the oil while whisking constantly until the ingredients are well combined. Keep in mind that the dressing will separate over time, so be sure to give it a shake or whisk it again before serving.

What's the best way to store the vinaigrette?

Store the vinaigrette in an airtight container in the refrigerator for up to 2 weeks. You'll want to give it a good shake to reemulsify it before serving.

What goes well with Honey-Mustard Cider Vinaigrette?

This is one of our favorite salad dressings. It's perfect for drizzling over fresh baby greens or sprouts, and you can substitute it for any dressings recommended in our salad recipes, such as our Leafy Green Salad, Kale Salad with Cranberries or Spinach Salad. It also pairs well with roasted vegetables, including our Sheet-Pan Roasted Root Vegetables, Colorful Roasted Sheet-Pan Vegetables or Roasted Broccoli & Cauliflower. Additionally, it adds a burst of flavor to a grain bowl. Simply swap out the dressing in our Green Veggie Bowl with Chicken and Lemon-Tahini Dressing, Farro & Vegetable Bowls with Lemon-Shallot Herb Sauce or Vegan Roasted Vegetable Quinoa Bowl with Creamy Green Sauce.
