Frequently Asked Questions

Does champagne vinegar need to be refrigerated?

No, it doesn't, and it has a very long shelf life due to its high acidity. However, the vinaigrette you make with the vinegar needs to be refrigerated.

What's the best way to store Lemon-Champagne Vinaigrette?

Store the vinaigrette in an airtight container in the refrigerator for up to 1 week. It's normal for the ingredients to solidify in a cold environment, so let it stand at room temperature for about an hour before using it. This will return the vinaigrette to a liquid state; simply shake it to recombine the ingredients. Alternatively, you can speed up the process by placing the container in warm water.

How should I use the vinaigrette?

Our vinaigrette pairs wonderfully with fresh greens such as arugula, spinach or mixed greens. It makes a flavorful marinade for chicken or fish and is delicious when drizzled over roasted vegetables, such as our recipe for Sheet-Pan Roasted Root Vegetables. You can liven up a bowl of pasta with this vinaigrette, and you can easily incorporate it into any of our grain bowl recipes, including the Green Goddess Grain Bowl, Edamame & Veggie Rice Bowl or the Roasted Veggie & Tofu Brown Rice Bowl.
