Frequently Asked Questions

How do I toast pecans?

You can toast pecans either in the oven or on the stovetop. Regardless of the method, the goal is to achieve nuts that are golden brown and fragrant. They cook quickly, so keep a close eye on them to avoid burning. If you're using the oven, preheat it to 350°F. Spread the nuts evenly on a dry baking sheet and cook them for about 5 to 10 minutes. If you prefer the skillet method, heat a dry skillet over medium heat and cook the nuts for about 6 minutes, shaking the pan often. Let the toasted pecans cool completely before chopping.

Can I use frozen raspberries?

While fresh raspberries are recommended to minimize excess juice and moisture mixing with the other ingredients and diluting the parfait, frozen raspberries can be used as an alternative if fresh ones are not available. Be sure to thaw them overnight and remove as much moisture as possible before adding them to the mixture.

What other types of fruit would work?

Consider including fresh, in-season fruits whenever possible. For example, in the fall and winter, you can try the parfaits with apples or pomegranate arils. In the summer, choose blueberries, blackberries or strawberries.

Can I use any kind of yogurt?

You can use regular yogurt. However, we highly recommend using Greek yogurt, as we did in this recipe, because of its thick, creamy texture. Greek yogurt yields the best results. For flavor, while plain yogurt is a great option, if you prefer a less tangy one, try a flavored variety with honey or vanilla.

What's the best way to store Raspberry-Banana Yogurt Parfait?

Store in an airtight container in the refrigerator, where it will stay fresh for up to 2 days. The banana may have some discoloration, but it's still fine to eat.
