

Strawberry-Peach Chia Seed Smoothie

This fiber-rich chia smoothie is sweet and tangy with a velvety texture, thanks to nutritious chia seeds that expand as they combine with liquid. Chia seeds have plenty of healthy benefits, from delivering a boost of fiber to providing a dose of heart-healthy fats. We like the combination of strawberries, peaches and cherries, but any sweet and tangy fruit combo will work.

By Amanda Holstein | Updated on February 28, 2026

 Reviewed by Dietitian Emily Lachtrupp, M.S., RD

Active Time: 5 mins

Total Time: 5 mins

Servings: 2

Nutrition Profile:

No Added Sugar Gut Healthy Anti-Inflammatory Mediterranean Diet Sesame-Free Weight Loss Diabetes-Friendly Soy-Free High-Fiber Heart-Healthy Healthy Cholesterol Vegetarian High-Protein Egg-Free Gluten-Free

Ingredients

1⅓ cups unsweetened almond milk

1 cup frozen strawberries

1 cup frozen peach slices

½ cup reduced-fat plain strained (Greek-style) yogurt

¼ cup pitted dark sweet cherries

3 dried pitted dates

2 tablespoons chia seeds

Directions

Step 1

Place 1⅓ cups almond milk, 1 cup strawberries, 1 cup peaches, ½ cup yogurt, ¼ cup cherries, 3 dates and 2 tablespoons chia seeds in a blender. Process until smooth, about 1 minute, scraping down the sides of the blender as necessary. Divide between 2 glasses and serve immediately.

Recipe Updates

Based on earlier review and comments of this recipe, we've retested and made the following adjustments (and updated the nutritional analysis accordingly):

Increased almond milk (to improve consistency)

Decreased strawberries (to improve consistency)

Frequently Asked Questions

Is frozen fruit good for you?

Yes! And in many cases, frozen fruit may contain more nutrients than fresh. As soon as a fruit is picked, it slowly starts losing nutrients. The fresh produce in your grocery store may have already been sitting for a week or more since being picked. Frozen fruit, on the other hand, is frozen at its peak, which helps maintain its nutrients. Freezing the fruit doesn't change its carbohydrate, fat or protein content either, so in that respect, it's essentially the same as fresh fruit. Look for frozen fruit with no added sugar or other additives.

What are the benefits of chia seeds in smoothies?

Chia seeds are tiny but mighty little packages full of nutrition. They're a plant-based source of protein and omega-3 fatty acids. They also provide calcium, iron and fiber. In just 2 tablespoons of chia seeds, you'll get 10 grams of fiber—that's about a third of your day's worth! And we know fiber has all kinds of health benefits, from a healthier gut to helping with weight management. Chia seeds are also loaded with antioxidants that help protect against inflammation, aging, heart disease and cancer.

Is almond milk good for you?

Almond milk is a good alternative for those who are allergic or sensitive to cow's milk or who are vegan. In its purest form, almond milk lacks a lot of the nutrition cow's milk has, but many companies fortify their almond milk with vitamins and minerals. And unless it also contains added protein, it won't contain nearly as much as cow's milk. For that reason, look for almond milk that has been fortified with protein, vitamins and minerals, and has no added sugar.

Can I use a different type of milk?

Absolutely. This recipe calls for unsweetened almond milk, but you can replace it with another plant-based milk such as cashew milk or oat milk. Of course, if dairy is not a concern, you can use your favorite cow's milk.

Can I use fresh fruit instead of frozen?

You can, but we recommend sticking with the frozen fruit, which will keep your smoothie nice and cold and provide a thick and creamy texture. When we have a lot of fresh fruit on hand, we like to prepare smoothie freezer packs so they're always at the ready.

How can I use leftover chia seeds?

There are so many great recipes using chia seeds, including our Berry Chia Seed Pudding and Overnight Quinoa Pudding. Keep your chia seeds as fresh as possible in an airtight container stored away from sunlight and in a cool, dry spot.

EatingWell.com, February 2024

Nutrition Facts

Per serving: Serving Size 1 1/2 cups 281 calories; total fat 8g; saturated fat 2g; cholesterol 11mg; sodium 166mg; total carbohydrate 40g; dietary fiber 9g; total sugars 26g; added sugars 0g; protein 16g; vitamin c 46mg; calcium 577mg; iron 3mg; potassium 742mg

Additional reporting by Carrie Myers, M.S. and Linda Frahm

*Additional reporting by Carrie Myers, M.S. and Linda Frahm

Explore more:

- Healthy Recipes
- Drink
- Smoothies
- Chia Seed Smoothies

Was this page helpful?

